

Privacy Policy

Invesol Consultancy ("We," "Us," or "Our") is committed to protecting the privacy and security of your personal information. This Privacy Policy outlines how we collect, use, disclose, and protect the information you provide to us when using our website or engaging with our consultancy services.

1. Information We Collect

1.1. Personal Information: We may collect personal information such as your name, email address, phone number, company name, and other relevant details when you contact us, request information, or engage with our consultancy services.

1.2. Website Usage Information: We may collect non-personal information about your visit to our website, including your IP address, browser type, operating system, and pages visited. This information helps us analyze trends, improve our website's performance, and enhance your user experience.

2. Use of Information

2.1. Service Delivery: We use the information collected to provide you with our consultancy services, respond to your inquiries, and fulfill your requests.

2.2. Communication: We may use your contact information to communicate with you about our services, promotions, events, and other relevant information. You can opt out of receiving these communications at any time by contacting us or using the unsubscribe link provided in our emails.

2.3. Analytics: We may use website usage information for analytical purposes, such as assessing the effectiveness of our marketing efforts, improving our website's functionality, and optimizing user experience.

3. Disclosure of Information

3.1. Service Providers: We may share your information with third-party service providers who assist us in delivering our consultancy services, managing our website, or conducting business operations. These service providers are bound by confidentiality agreements and are prohibited from using your information for any other purpose.

3.2. Legal Requirements: We may disclose your information if required by law or in response to legal proceedings, court orders, or government requests.

4. Data Security

4.1. We implement reasonable security measures to protect your personal information from unauthorized access, misuse, alteration, or loss. However, no method of transmission over the internet or electronic storage is 100% secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security of your data.

5. Third-Party Links

5.1. Our website may contain links to third-party websites or services that are not owned or controlled by us. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of these third-party sites. We recommend reviewing their privacy policies before providing any personal information.

6. Children's Privacy

6.1. Our services are not directed to individuals under the age of 18. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children. If you believe that we have inadvertently collected personal information from a child, please contact us immediately, and we will take appropriate steps to remove such information from our records.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

7.1. We reserve the right to update or modify this Privacy Policy at any time. Any changes will be effective immediately upon posting the updated Privacy Policy on our website. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any updates.

8. Contact Us

8.1. If you have any questions, concerns, or requests regarding this Privacy Policy or our privacy practices, please contact us at info@invesolconsultancy.com

By using our website or engaging with our consultancy services, you consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of your information as described in this Privacy Policy.
